ARKANSAS SWIMMING AND DIVING HISTORY

YI-TING SIOW

The history of the Arkansas Razorbacks swimming and diving program dates back to the first team in 1972. The program was under the Association for Intercollegiate Athletics for Women (AIAW). The Razorbacks recorded their first winning season in 1983 (6-3) when they tallied wins over Oklahoma, North Texas and Missouri. The same year, Arkansas joined the NCAA and recorded a 22nd-place finish.

While still under the helm of the AIAW in 1979, Diane Doucet, a highly touted diver from New Orleans, La., put together an incredible performance on the one-meter springboard at the AIAW National Championships and became the first ever swimming and diving All-American at the University of Arkansas.

The swimming and diving program garnered its first national champion in Karen Gorham in 1981. Gorham captured the one-meter diving title at the 1981 AIAW Championships and was named the AIAW Diver of the Year. A seven-time All-American, Gorham also won the U.S. Diving title in 1980. Shortly after Gorham's history-making performance as a Razorback, Robin Ford earned the three-meter title at the 1985 NCAA Championships and was a two-time All-American.

Following in Gorham and Ford's footsteps were highly touted divers like Diane Dudeck, Becky Martin, Karen Straley and Alicia Turner, each of whom received All-America honors during their Arkansas careers. Following the 1996 season, however, Arkansas diving hit a lull until Katerina Kordiukova made Razorback diving relevant once more. Kordiukova placed ninth on the three-meter board at the 2001 NCAA Championships, missing the championship finals by .05 points. She also scored points for Arkansas in the one-meter competition with a 17th-place finish at the National Championships. In 2003, Mandy Moran was the runner-up in the three-meter dive at the NCAA National Championship. Also in 2003, Moran set the three-meter dual school record that was broken by freshman standout Kesha Naylor in 2011.

Several Razorbacks have earned multiple All-America honors in the pool. New Yorker Kris Sheedy and Dallas native Missy Allert picked up seven All-America certificates while Arkadelphia's Nancy Duncan had five. Sheedy and Duncan swam on the powerful relay teams of the late 1980s, while Allert was a strong freestyle specialist. Katie Kastes joined this elite group as a freshman in 2008, earning two All-America honors and adding two more certificates in 2009.

Olympians have been no strangers to the Razorbacks roster throughout the years. Canadian Cheryl McArton became the first Razorback to reach the Olympics when she swam for her native country in the 1984 summer games. She held six Arkansas records when she finished her career. Coming to Arkansas in 1998, Natalia Kodajova competed at the 1996 Olympic Games in Atlanta in the 100 and 200 breaststroke events for Slovakia. Kodajova earned the Arkansas outstanding swimmer award two times. In 2001, she represented Slovakia in the World University Games for the second time in Beijing, China. In 1999, she finished 11th in the 100 breaststroke.

Razorback Zsuzsa Csobanki represented Hungary in the 2004 Olympic Games in Athens, Greece, and is a four-time Hungarian National Champion in the 50 free. Most recently, current Razorback Sigrun Sverrisdottir represented Iceland and Yi-Ting Siow represented Malaysia in the 2008 Beijing Olympics. At the games, Siow finished 19th in the 200 breast with a Malaysian record time of 2:27.80. She joined the Hogs in 2008 and has three Olympic appearances under her belt.

At the 2009 NCAA Swimming and Diving Championships, the Razorbacks garnered five All-America honors split between four swimmers. Sophomore Katie Kastes received two nods in 2009 (200 fly, 400 IM) to go along with her two All-America certificates from 2008 (200 fly, 500 free). Jamie Marks (1,650 free), Leah Pierce (200 breast) and Yi-Ting Siow (200 breast) also earned All-America status, giving Arkansas its highest number of All-American honorees in a single season.

The 2010-11 team took Arkansas swimming and diving to a new level, earning a program-best No. 17 ranking during the season and breaking seven school records. The 2008-09 season saw a program-high 10 dual meet wins and a fifth place finish in the Southeastern Conference, the best SEC finish in Razorback history. In 2010, Siow became the first Razorback swimmer to win back-to-back SEC Championships with her dominance in the 200 breaststroke. Siow's excellence in the 200 breast also made her the first swimmer at Arkansas to ever finish as high as fourth in any NCAA championship event.

In 2012-13, the Razorbacks welcomed new head coach Sean Schimmel. At the helm of the program, Schimmel led the Razorbacks to 26th place at the NCAA Championships, the best finish since the 1990 team took 25th place. Arkansas' 24 points scored at the championship were the most scored by a Razorback team since 2004 when Arkansas nabbed 24 points and finished 27th overall. The Razorbacks were led by Lauren Jordan, who finished ninth overall in the 1,650 yard freestyle and Nikki Daniels who place fourth in the 100 breaststroke. Both women earned All-American honores. The 400 freestyle relay team of Susanna White, Nina Drolc, Shana Lim and Anna Mayfield posted the third fastest time in school history, and the 800 freestyle relay team of Jordan, Nicole Menzel, Mayfield and Drolc achieved a school record.

The 2013-14 season was highlighted by numerous achievements for the Razorbacks. Arkansas was ranked in CSCAA's top 25 ranking of all women's Division I programs for the entirety of the season. The team was 9-1 (3-1 SEC) in dual meets and set a new school record of 14 straight dual meet wins from Oct. 26, 2012 to Nov. 9, 2013. The previous record of 13 was set from the 1990-91 season to 1991-92. At the SEC Championships, the Razorbacks marked 40 personal records, swam 42 NCAA 'B' cut times, earned five NCAA zone-qualifying scores in diving, broke eight school records and clocked 10 record-breaking swims. The team also accrued its first NCAA 'A' qualification time in the 400-yard freestyle relay. Arkansas qualified seven swimmers for the 2014 NCAA Championships. Over the course of the meet, senior Nicole Menzel clocked two season best times in the 500 and 1,650 freestyle, junior Susanna White's times in the 100 butterfly and 50 freestyle were Arkansas top-five times and the team registered all four relay swims as top-five times in program history.
